"Foolish, Free and Fair"

BASSANO, THURSDAY, SEPT. 10TH, 1914

SAUTATORY.

Commencing with this issue, The Mail is being published under new management. The directors of the Mail Publishing Co. Limited, have made arrangements with Hae L. King to take over the managing editorship and the same took effect on Tuesday morning of this week. By this arrangement the new manager becomes perhaps the best individual stockholder of the company, but none of the original stockholders become any the less interested financially; and the business will proceed according to the by-laws adopted by the said company on incorporation.

The interest and aim of The Mail will continue to be all for Bassano. The Mail will endeavour to serve the community and will expect the support of the business men in so far as it proves a service to the town.

The new editor comes practically untried to the town and to date is without introduction to the most of Bassano citizens, so a few lines in explanation will be not amiss. The new editor received his first four years practical training in the Tillsonburg. Overseeing office at Tillsonburg, Ontario. At the expiration of this period Horace Bird's salary, "Go West Young Man" was very prominently displayed on an attractive window card in a C. P. R. ticket office, and it had the usual influencing effect on the impressionable mind of the boy anxious to explore for himself this new country. The first year in the West was spent at the office of The Times at Treherne, Manitoba. The next two and one half years were spent in homesteading in Alberta on a quarter section of land about thirty miles directly south of Bassano. For two years previous to January 1st. of this year the writer held the position of Editor and manager of the Treherne Times, and from that time till the present held a position with a supply house in the city of Winnipeg.

The writer would like to add that Bassano was chosen as the most likely town in which to locate, permanently only after considerable investigation of several towns throughout the West. The natural advantages of Bassano appear to be by far superior to the ordinary, and the attitude of the Bassano business men gave the impression that all were working eagerly for the welfare and advancement of the town. It might also be stated that Bassano seems to be suffering the least from the business depression occasioned by the fear of the war. One of the writer visited during a recent tour through the West.

The co-operation of the people of Bassano is desired to establish The Mail as a most influential organ in the best town of the best district of Alberta.

THE CATALOGUE HOUSE

A great deal has been written, and equally as much said, no doubt, on the vexed question of the catalogue house patronage by town and rural communities. The subject has been discussed from different angles by those mostly concerned, and almost invariably terminates in favor of the local merchant and his uphill fight against the encroachment of the metropolitan department store system on what he has a right to assume in his own restricted territory.

The local merchant contends, and quite correctly, too, that in all movements which have for their object the inception or advancement of institutions for the general good and uplifting of the community in which he does business he is expected to contribute his share. Where do the catalogue houses come in here? Do they help a community with the payment of any taxes, a donation to the erection of a church, a school or a hospital? Not on your life. Were a family starving through misfortune in our midst the departmental store could no more be induced to assist in relief than the most voracious miser; yet the merchant is the first to be "outraged" if an occasion of the kind arises and is expected to be generous in his subscription.

It is a common custom with some dealers to send away their cash to these catalogue houses, accompanying their orders for household and other supplies, but in many instances the local dealers have to carry over these same parties who have sent their money to the city. This is a form of injustice that requires no argument to vindicate the position of the home dealer.

There is an aspect of the department store system, however, apart from all others, which appeals to the motherhood of the West. Hundreds of young girls, many of whom are only blossoming into womanhood, find employment in the various departments of these concerns. It is compulsory that they be well or neatly dressed, yet the salaries they receive are barely sufficient to purchase the clothes they need and to allow a margin whatever for the little extras in the way of toilette, costume or jewelry accessories, so dear to every young girl's heart. It requires no stretch of imagination to find the logical reason why these underpaid girls of a grab-all community have in numerous cases resorted to adopting other means, not counting the cost, in "getting even" with society and its tolerance of a system as disabused as it is hypocritical. How long are the parents of the West going to sanction this condition of things by their patronage?

If drilling has been going on in Calgary as long as in Okotoks there should be pretty formidable army there just now.

THE COP

I'd hate to be a pecker and tread the pave of brick, the goat for every squarer who thinks he has a kick. He tries to do his duty, nine cases out of ten the bigger force and shooey, all sorts of strong arms, the ladies and the ladies, the bad man with a past, he'll chase from post to pillar, and run them in at last. His life he doesn't reckon when tracking deadly foes; wherever perils beckon the pecker has to go. The cop must be a wizard, a Sherlock in disguise, and know how, the ladies and the ladies, the bad man with a past, he'll chase from post to pillar, and run them in at last. His life he doesn't reckon when tracking deadly foes; wherever perils beckon the pecker has to go. The cop must be a wizard, a Sherlock in disguise, and know how, the ladies and the ladies, the bad man with a past, he'll chase from post to pillar, and run them in at last. Dyspepsia

With Frequent Stomach Headaches and Much Pain After Eating—Dr.
Cass's Nerve Food Cured

This letter is from a lady who gained 14 pounds by using the great food cure. It did wonders for her in improving her general health. She is enthusiastic in its praise, and refers to her neighbors as witnesses of the splendid results obtained.

Mrs. Susan Dobson, Spring Hill
Mines, N.S., writes: "It is with pleasure that I write to you in praise of were in bad condition. About ten years ago I took a thorough treatment of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, using altogether

21 boxes and since then can eat any thing, have been freed from head aches, and my health has been greatly improved in every way. I gained 15 pounds in weight, and feel sure I owe everything to Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.
You may use this letter, and my neighbors can tell you of my condition
before using this treatment."

The Limit

Mary Jane's master is a slightly eccentric bachelor. He has one most irritating habit. Instead of telling her what he wants done by way of mouth,
he leaves out the words "on the kitchen table or anywhere else" and she, as is, likely to see it a note curling across

The other day he bought some notepaper, with the usual die sunk address printed upon it, from the stationist at ordered it to be sent home. Mary Jane took it in, and the first thing that caught her eye was a note attached to the package. She read it open-eyed.

"Well," she said, "he's asked me to do a few things in his blessed lotes, but this is the limit. I won't tane it no longer!"

For the note read: "Die inside this package."—London Answers.

A President in Shirt Sleeves

The Swiss president's unassuming status has given rise to many stories. Edmund d'Auvergne, visiting the government buildings at Bern, "noticed" the President in shirt sleeves.

you might see the word 'cashier' or 'district registrar.' I called to mind how an important English railway contract, once knocked at this door and was answered by a man in shirt sleeves, whom he took to be a clerk it was the president himself." In Sir Horace Rumbold's time (the sixties) the story was that a diplomat, calling at the president's private abode, was admitted by a lady with tucked up sleeves and soap sudde' arms— Mme. la Presidente straight from the washub.—London Standard.

A teacher had been at great trouble to explain to her class the meaning of the word "notwithstanding" and, on asking for a sentence in which the word occurred, was somewhat nonplused to receive the following effort from a blushing maiden of some eight summers and winters:
 "Please, miss, my little brother has a hole in the seat of his trousers, and it's notwithstanding."—London Mail.

"Well," replied the athletic youth, "maybe you can, but if you cannot—"

Advice of Family Physician

Formerly people thought meat necessary for strength and muscular vigor.

Women's Walk-Over shoes have arrived and ready for your inspection at Muir's.

Vice-President Marshall authorized a published statement last week in which he said that J. C. H. Wilson would be a candidate for a second term.

Principal Mitchell is very anxious to increase the enrolment of the High School class. Pupils contemplating taking up this work should endeavor to get in at the beginning of the term.

The Southern Alberta crop may not be so large as it has been in some previous years, but even half a crop, and wheat at $1.00 per bushel the farmer has good cause for rejoicing.

High School work is now being taught in the Bassano school. This is the first term that the Bassano pupils have been able to take up high school work in their home town. One step more of advancement for Bassano.

And don't let the farmers forget for a minute the sound advice to make every acre produce next year. Two dry years in succession are very unlikely. A big crop may confidently be expected. And big prices too. Now's the time to plan for next spring's seeding.

Quite an unusual event of interest for 1914 in Bassano commenced on Monday, when a healthy rain visited this part of the country. Well, the C. P. did not spend several millions of dollars around Bassano for nothing and rain from the clouds will lose its interest when irrigation gets fully under operation.

Suits or Overcoats made to order $20.00, 100 styles to pick from.—Jack Torgan.

Rev. D. G. Schofield, the new pastor of the Anglican Church, arrived in Bassano from British Columbia last Thursday. His sermon on Sunday evening, dealing mainly with the moral side of the great world-wide war, was quietly yet forcefully given. The Mail takes this opportunity to heartily welcome Mr. Schofield to Bassano and to wish him every success in his new field of activity.

DEVELOPMENT OF PROVINCIAL POLICY FOR TECHNICAL EDUCATION

When the Hon. J. R. Boyle, Minister of Education, announced his intention to develop a Provincial Policy for Technical Education, and appointed Dr. J. C. Miller as Director, considerable progress has been made. The organization of the new department has been delayed somewhat owing to the fact that Dr. Miller has had to continue to act as Principal of the Normal School at Camrose until the close of the recent session and was also assigned the duty of representing the Department of Education at the recent Agricultural Conference held at Ottawa under the chairmanship of the Hon. Mr. Barrill, Minister of Agriculture.

During the month of March and April the Director has conferred with the School Boards, Board of Trade and Labor Councils in Medicine Hat and Lethbridge, and given public addresses on Technical Education in each of these cities. Addresses have also been given at conferences with school authorities held in Carleton Place, Hamilton, Kingston, and Red Deer. In each of these visits the authorities and citizens were keenly interested in the new developments in the policy of the Minister of Education to have our schools serve large numbers, and give a somewhat modified service to those already able to take advantage of what the schools have to offer.

The sympathetic and active cooperation of the local communities with the Provincial Director in making the technical and educational services necessary to reveal clearly local and provincial conditions and needs, promises most favorably for successful development of the work represented by this new department.

In Medicine Hat, after a careful consideration of the city's present and future needs by the local education by the School Board and the Provincial Director, plans for a new co-educational high school have been prepared and accepted, and the construction of the building will be proceeded with as soon as the necessary site is obtained. Estimated cost of the building will be about $200,000. The building provides for the following:

1. Administrative Offices for the school board and the Departmental.
2. Offices for specialists.
3. Splendid Gymnasium, with lockers, baths and swimming pool in connection therewith.
4. Three rooms for Commercial Department.
5. Class-rooms for academic instruction and library.
6. Laboratories for the various sciences taught in high school.
7. Full accommodation for courses in Domestic Science and Household Arts, including and dining room, sewing, dressmaking and millinery, and Laundry.
8. Accommodation for special instruction in music (including instrumental) and art.
9. A splendid assembly hall with stage and dressing rooms.
10. Accommodation for shop work, training, bench work in wood, wood turning and wood working machines, pattern work, long work, machine shop, electrical, foundry practice and electrical workers' equipment.

The school designed and located so as to meet as fully as possible the needs of the night class students as well as day students and part time students. When completed it will be an institution which will find its contents with every phase of education need felt in the community, and will be an institution of which the city may well be proud.

Lethbridge also is facing the problem of additional accommodation for high school purposes. While this city of high the South has the honor of having been the first in the Province to provide advanced manual training, domestic science, the necessary technical courses, the school building, having already located a site, is now planning how best to design its new building so that by utilizing to the full the present indicated building and the new high school all the educational needs of the community will be served to the best advantage.

In the home-made education and equipment for domestic science and work-shop work have been provided. By special arrangement the children of Grades 7 and 8 of the public school are given instruction in these subjects in the academy.

MAJOR

Why do farmers who have two and three six-month-old colts not put them to work, is what Mr. George Kinloch cannot understand. George has patented a machine which is built containing a washing machine. This outfit of George's turns out a dark fluid which is called Col. George says one feed of this wonderful mixture puts two-and-a-half year's growth on every colt, anybody who does not believe this will be well repaid by seeing George at the Open South Ranch.

Freeman Mills, of Mills & Scan, a glazing and lead-chasing contractors, has had enough of threatening for one year and will pull his rig home on Monday or Tuesday. Mr. Mills had caught a run this year as he has put in about ten days work. Perhaps he believes in "Mam, make 'em sweat!"

Slut Deitz and his night crew are just burning up the ground east of Major's.

those days they are just as good as cold horses and the best horse.

Don't forget about the big dance at the Liberty school house on the 18th of this month. One may ask "Is it true that it is a free dance?" Sure, it is free. Don't think anybody around Major could tell a lie not on your tin type.

Did you hear the thickish head? Well if you didn't the next will be a very good imitation.

Resolved!—That the people of Major appoint a commission to interview Mr. A. Prentice and see if he will be situated to land Dan Shaw his heavy a-bent every Sunday; that is, considering he lives close enough that walking will not wear his future prospects, or Dan's automobile is just being designed. It is easy to see where Dan has it all over the other milk-makers, as to being a critic and an optimist. It does not take the automobile and top buggies.

If it came to happen to come to F. Kellerman's farm, would Vilas Caesar and his tribe of Roman monkeys be with him?

Warning!—Any person or persons throwing stones around Major P. O. will be liable to a fine not exceeding $100.00 as it obstructs the view from the south.

DOWN LIBERTY LANE

Strutting down Liberty Lane on a Sunday afternoon—

Two maidens fair, one dark eyed, and one with golden hair—

A team they spied, "Oh Dan!" the dark one cried.

"I'd like to see the gas man!" said the one that was fair, as I like him best.

But Danny and the gas man were taking a rest.
